Welcome to the Year 2000, which we will prominently feature in our December issue. Our featured prize, the Forum's Citation, will be awarded to the best submitted article.
Next year's Forum, which will be given to the best student paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Historical Association, will be presented at the American Historical Association annual meeting in Atlanta, Georgia, on January 6, 1999. The student paper will be selected from those presented at the annual meeting of the History of Science Society, which will be held in Chicago, Illinois, on November 17-19, 1998.

The selection of the best student paper will be made by a committee appointed by the Executive Committee of the American Historical Association and the History of Science Society, which will meet during the Annual Meeting of the History of Science Society, which will be held in Chicago, Illinois, on November 17-19, 1998.

Obituary:

John L. Simon, M.D.

The small obituary notice of today's New York Times included the following:

"John L. Simon, M.D., a pioneer in the field of psychiatry, has died. He was a leader in the development of modern psychotherapy and a respected educator in the field of mental health. He was a member of the American Psychiatric Association and a professor at the University of California, Los Angeles. His contributions to the field of psychiatry are well known and have been widely recognized. He is survived by his wife, Jean, and three children."

From the Newsletter Editor:

The editorial in the current issue of the newsletter highlights the growing importance of psychiatry in the medical field. It mentions the increasing awareness of mental health issues and the need for more specialization in the field. The editor expresses the need for more mental health awareness and education in schools and communities.
